Zoning Adopted

SPECIAL TOWN MEETING

In a hairline decision, the voters of Mattapoisett expressed a desire for a public kindergarten. The vote, which was taken as a sort of guideline for the school committee, is not binding on them. The vote was 155 to 150. The kindergarten question was in the warrant by petition. About 400 voters were present at the Special Town Meeting. Immediately following the vote on the kindergarten, a large number of voters left. The cost, if the kindergarten is started, is estimated to be $20,952. 20 with transportation

The Zoning Proposal followed the kindergarten poll and the by-law was explained by Mr. Thomas Earle, Jr., chairman of the Mattapoisett Zoning Board. There was some debate on the proposal but it was brought to a vote when David McCormack expressed the opinion that voters had studied the by-law and had come prepared to vote one way or the other. He also expressed appreciation for the "dedicated work of the Zoning Board". This suggestion met with general approval and the vote was taken by check list. The vote was to adopt the article by 209 to 73. Several previously adopted zoning by-laws were unanimously repealed as

The opinion voted on the attempt to move the route of 195 to the north, which was sought by William Matthews of the Planning Board, was defeated. Mr. Matthews sought the vote in order to get the town on record as opposing the present route so that he could attempt to influence the State to reconsider. He felt that the southern route would divide the town and have an adverse affect on its future growth and continuity.

SOLOIST THRILLS AUDIENCE

The golden trumpet of Armando Ghitalla looks like a piece of fine jewelry but looks are only part of the story. Mr. Ghitalla produced a range of sound, color and pure melodic embroidery that mesmerized every one of the large and appreciative audience at the Sunday concert. For an encore, he played "Trumpeter's Lullaby", and the whole performance was beautiful beyond description. It is pure pleasure to hear such mastery on an instrument.

The first concert of the Regional Symphonic Band was off to a great start. The Bristol auditorium at Old Rochester was

The program leaned to the classical and semi-classical. A good mixture of sad and bright from the World War I Prologue to Procession of the Nobles in which the chargers and the trappings and the banners were as musically visible as if they were actually on stage. A medley from Gigi brought the performance to a light and upbeat conclusion. The enthusiasm of the audience was rewarded by an encore march which makes the band thunder and roar, move and rock like no other music.

The Symphonic Band, under the hands of John Pandolfi, roared and whispered, and spun the threads of musical magic that makes these concerts so memorable.

Vote of Thanks Editorial

No matter what the outcome of the zoning proposal, the Zoning Board of Mattapoisett would have had the satisfaction of knowing that they had done a thorough job in the proposal that they presented. That the zoning proposal was approved with a resounding majority is an added indication of the fitness and the fairness that was applied to their work. It was a tailor made proposition. It was the result of countless hours of study and even after completion the Zoning Board made several changes that were suggested in the two hearings before the Special Town Meeting. Where they found a reasonable request they made a reasonable change before they presented the measure. I believe that these men typify the finest kind of citizen participation in government by generously donating the many hours of labor that they did. Mr. Thomas Earle, chairman; Allan H. Vaitses, Ernest W. Smith, Joseph Souza, Frank F. Sylvia and Joseph L. Collins may be certain that the townspeople of Mattapoisett wish to thank them for a long, hard job which was done extremely well.

"THE MOUSE THAT ROARED" AT ORRHS

When a country five miles long by three miles wide decides to invade New York City in broad daylight with bows and arrows, one thinks of a mouse roaring at a lion. Probably this is what Leonard Wibberly had in mind when he wrote the book, "The Mouse that Roared", and when Christopher Seigel made a play out of it, it lost none of its freshness and humor.

The Senior Dramatic Club of Old Rochester Regional High School is presenting "The Mouse That Roared" on December 2nd at 8:15 P.M. and December 3rd at 2:15 P.M. It promises to be a very enjoyable play and a striking contrast to last year's presentation of "The Diary of Anne Frank" by the same group. Sue Maxwell, who starred as Anne Frank last year, again plays the female lead of Gloriana the Twelfth. The male lead of Tully Bascom is played by

MUSEUM CROWD AND THE "MET" IN N.Y.

On Wednesday morning, December 6th, at 10 o'clock, "The Museum Crowd", Fine Arts Group of the Mattapoisett Woman's Club, will focus on a long distance view of the world famous Metropolitan Museum of Art located on Fifth Avenue, New York. Mrs. Albert D. Furnans of Water Street will be hostess. Miss Dorothy Fox and Mrs. Clarence F. Fountain will assist Miss Lydia Walker who is in charge of the program.

The museum's founding and "Gifts Which Made the Museum" will be discussed by Mrs. Fountain. Miss Fox will present fascinating material about "The Winslow Homer Collection of Paintings at the Met". Among color prints loaned by Miss Clara Beetle are some of the noted American artists' painting. Other color prints will augment Miss Walker's survey of The Art Galleries, as well as identify certain major artists and their works. "Today's Met and its Director" will furnish a quick glance at a number of the museum's many departments, ancient and modern, with brief mention of "The Cloisters" as well as features very special to "The Met". Miss Walker, a former near neighbor of the museum, will visit it again in the near future for up-dating the present scene in the art world for later possible contributions to "The Museum Crowd" programs.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Concerning the vote on the kindergarten of 150 against and 155 for at a special town meeting it is more than obvious that the school committee did not receive a vote of confidence on this matter.

Many voters, actually 76 came to vote for the kindergarten only and then left immediately after, completely unconcerned over the important issue of zoning which literally effects everyone and the future of Mattapoisett. This type of transient voter is only interested in what they can get out of the town without contribution and this fact certainly should be considered by our school committee in reaching a decision.

To accomplish a realistic vote of confidence this item should be placed on a ballot at the regular town meeting. The estimated cost is currently well above the $15,000 before we even begin and the increases certainly will have a drastic effect on the tax rate forever in the very near future.

There are many amendments before the legislature concerning kindergartens, one of them being not to make kindergartens mandatory. Mattapoisett should not consider the adoption of kindergartens until all pending resolutions are resolved which would be in 1973.

It is a known fact that our private kindergartens have a good rating and our public tax money should not go towards defeating our hard working and able private enterprises for a select group that do not want the responsibility of paying for one year's education. The selfish massive walkout after the kindergarten vote clearly indicates the lack of interest in the future of the town.

In conclusion I cannot see how the school committee can justify the enactment of a public kindergarten for the year of 1968. We are far from being desperate as there are openings in both of our private kindergartens for 1968.

Taxpayer.

Shooting Danger

It has been brought to our attention that boys are shooting in Mattapoisett with 22 rifles. They have killed a cardinal in a thickly settled part of the village. Parents should be aware that a 22 rifle is a deadly weapon, capable of killing a man at a range of one mile. Please check your children to see that this menace is stopped before a tragic accident occurs.
